

Bike Touring

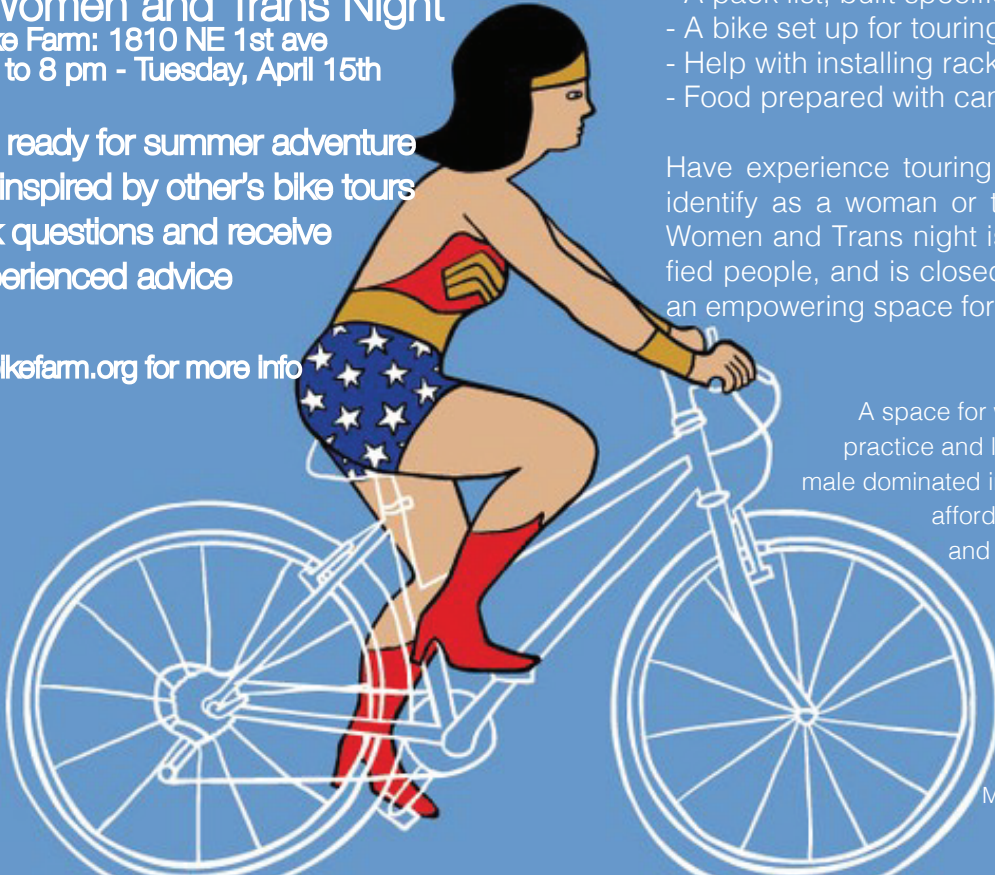

@ Women and Trans Night

@ Bike Farm: 1810 NE 1st ave

6 pm to 8 pm - Tuesday, April 15th

- get ready for summer adventure
- be inspired by other's bike tours
- ask questions and receive experienced advice

visit bikefarm.org for more info

What Specifically to Expect:

- An introduction and opportunity to express your goals
- What makes a bike ready to go on tour?
- A pack list, built specifically with women in mind
- A bike set up for touring, for hands on examples
- Help with installing racks and other tour accessories
- Food prepared with camping stoves

Have experience touring and want to help out? Do you identify as a woman or transgender person? Bike Farm Women and Trans night is for all women and trans identified people, and is closed to cisgender males, to provide an empowering space for women and gender minorities.

Our mission is to provide:

A space for women and trans identified people to practice and learn skills in a traditionally cisgender male dominated industry, a supportive community and affordable access to bicycle transportation and repair for women and trans identified people of all incomes.

We introduce ourselves by our preferred names and pronouns.

Contact us at empowering@bikefarm.org
More stories and experiences are welcome